[..]YRIANS TAKEN [..]RY ILL FROM [..]LLUTED WATER

During the past few days there have been many cases of sickness reported, that has been laid to the city water. In every case those afflicted had pains in the stomach and bowels, and some of them were deathly sick.

City chemist E. C. Curtiss lays the trouble to the refuse matter discharged into the river from the coke ovens at the steel plant. Flowing into the lake, an east wind blew the product toward the city intake and impregnated the water with phenol, or in other words carbolic acid. He states that it is in such a diluted state that tests of the water do not show it, however, and that so far as known no process has been developed that will do away with the trouble.

This is the same trouble as developed last spring, and has been complained of by various cities where the refuse from coke ovens have been discharged into the lake. The State Board of Health has worked on the problem but thus far there have been no results. Boiling the water does not help, but the peculiar taste can be detected at once especially by persons who have been made ill by it.

SAVINGS CLUBS POPULAR IN ELYRIA

Forming of Club to Accumulate Money For Holiday Season Started Way Back in 1798

By R. S. Waldorf

A few days ago an article appeared in the Chronicle-Telegram to the effect that one hundred and thirty thousand dollars had been saved during the past year by members of the Christmas Clubs in Elyria. I then recalled when Christmas Thrift Clubs were started in Elyria and how many men laughed at their wives for joining—putting their money in the bank week by week—where they could not touch it until the end of fifty weeks. At the end of the year when she had money for her Christmas shopping he was ready to join for the next year but in many cases would not for fear she would have the laugh on him.

Today the bank, the individual and the merchant are sold on the Christmas Club. The bank because instead of trying to make money out of the club, uses it to bring people into the bank. Of the $130,000 00 saved in Elyria last year a large part was placed on regular savings accounts. That part which was spent has won the merchant to the club, as his customer, the club member, had ready cash with which to make their holiday purchases. If the merchant realizes his golden opportunity he will do well in joining with the banks in their campaign of thrift education.

The central idea which makes the Christmas Club successful is that of the installment business. The extent and, on the other hand, the blessing of the installment plan are realized when we consider that three out of four automobiles are bought on the installment plan. Much of the evening entertainment has returned to the home by the radio purchased—"dollar down balance monthly." Fortunate are the myriad of men who are buying their houses "balance like rent."

Another reason for the success of the Christmas Club is that no money can be withdrawn until the end of the period. When one takes out a Christmas Club he takes out an insurance against yielding to financial temptation.

A great many people believe that the Christmas Club is a fad of the times, utilized mostly by women and children for the sake of having a few pennies with which to buy Christmas presents.

This is all wrong because the first Christmas Club dates back to 1798 in the banks of Scotland. In this country many large institutions organized Christmas Clubs for their employees shortly after the Civil war. As early as 1868 the Standard Oil Company, The Adams Express Company and the New York Life Insurance Co maintained such clubs, for their employees.

In 1907 and 1908 the club plan was introduced into the banks in a punch card form which gave way since 1910 to the coupon book. In 1912 about 160 banks were using the Christmas Club. This number has increased each year and in the year just ending 17400 banks have been using the Christmas Club and reasonable estimates place the amount saved at $350,000,000.00.

FEAR INSANE PATIENTS WHO ESCAPED FIRE MAY BE AT LARGE

Feeble-minded patients being led away from the burning buildings and (below) where twelve were burned to death.

Until a full check is made it will not be known whether any insanity patients in the Illinois State Hospital at Dunning are still at large after their escape during a fire that swept a wing of the hospital, killing eighteen. A great many of the feeble-minded men and women became frantic and it is believed many got away. Others, considered dangerous, remained cool and even aided in the work of rescue.

HE ENTERS TOWN JOBLESS; BECOMES COMPANY'S HEAD

Robert B. Austin.

Nineteen years ago, Robert B. Austin set foot on the streets of Topeka in quest of a job. He obtained work as an "order picker" in a wholesale hardware house. He starts 1924 as president of the institution, which has a capital and surplus of $650,000. Austin owns virtually all the stock.

FINE WOMAN AUTOIST FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

At the conclusion of the trial yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Esther Gilson, charged with reckless driving when she ran down George Richwine, badly injuring him, Mayor Jones found her guilty and fined her $25 and costs. The mayor also gave a lecture on careful driving, and cautioned all auto drivers to pay more attention to the rights of pedestrians in crossing the streets.

TODAY'S BEST STORY

Ed Horton, Mansfield, feels that he has been badly misused. Someone stole his horse collar — twice. He charged Ray Foote with stealing it and eventually the collar came back from a second hand store where the merchant said Foote had sold it to him.

A few days later Horton looked for his horse collar and again found it missing. He made another canvass of the hock shops and again found it in the same place. This time he swore out a warrant for Foote's arrest.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Steve Gacesa, of Lorain, in a divorce suit filed in court today states that his wife Jia Gacesa talked and scolded herself out of a home. The couple were married in 1922 and have one child. He states that almost from the first day of their marriage Jia scolded, nagged and quarreled with him many times over trivial matters, until in desperation in order to obtain peace of mind he was compelled to leave her on December 11. He asks a divorce, and that he be awarded the custody of their child.

31 MOROS KILLED BY CONSTABULARY IN THE PHILLIPINES

MANIA, P. I., Dec. 29 Thirty-one Moros were reported killed in a battle with Fillipino Constabulary at Malundo, in Llano today.

According to a report received here today a detachment of 60 constabulary men attacked the Moros under Chief Data, whose men had cut the telephone wire between Malandu and Camp Keithley. The Moros were armed with spears and bolos and were surrounded in an abandoned cotta.

No casualties were reported among the constabulary. The fight has fanned the fires of enmity to greater heights between the Moros and Fillipinos and caused a grave situation in the Moro provinces.

TAX BILL WILL BE REVAMPED, REWRITTEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29—The Mellon tax bill, proposing a horizontal reduction in taxes on incomes and far-reaching changes and simplification in the general administration of the tax law, will be so revamped and rewritten during its long and torturous course through the 68th congress that neither Republican or Democrats were willing to hazard a prediction today as to an approximate date when congress will finally pass upon the reduction features.

NEW HOMES IN CLEVELAND FIRED

Find Oil-Soaked Waste and Blankets in Three of Six Houses Set on Fire

CLEVELAND, Dec. 29—Two houses under construction at Bedford, near here, were destroyed by fire last night. A third was damaged and three others which had been set ablaze, were saved without injury by work of the Bedford Fire Department.

Benzine-soaked waste and blankets were found in each structure saved. Authorities are seeking the incendiary.

The houses were part of a lot of 65 to be erected in a new subdivision. Loss was estimated at 15,500.

CITY OFFICIALS ENJOY BIG PARTY

A big party was pulled off at American Legion hall last evening for the city officials, and heads of departments. The party was arranged by Doris Leser and May Douglas, right under the nose of the police department, and during the absence of Frank Klady.

The evening was spent in dancing, music and playing 500. Mayor Jones led the singing, and Frank Jaroch presided at the piano. A quartette composed of Messrs. Powell, Hamlin, Potter and Conabee sang some selections that will linger in the minds of those present for some time and Dan Symons feelingly sang "Oh, Promise Me," which the company all did.

A number of useful gifts were presented to the outgoing officials and their co-workers in appreciation of their co-operation and work during the past six years. Mayor Jones, for instance, in view of the many storms he has encountered especially during the past two months, and who is also known as being one of the dryest officials, was presented with an umbrella. Service director, Henry Beck also received an umbrella. May Douglas, whose smiling face will leave the water works office January 1st, was given a beautiful desk lamp. Walter Guthman, recently married, was presented with a carving set, it being understood that hereafter he must setle his family difficulties without calling in the police. Oscar Jaroch was given a belt and buckle. Dan Symons presented the gifts in his usual serious and impressive manner.

The following gifts were presented to the city officials being gifts from business men of the city. Mayor Jones, fishing tackle with electric bulb; H. A. Beck, wrist watch; Tom Potter, baby pacifier; Fred Meinke, wooden daschund; Jack Powell, raido telephone set; Albert Miller, Chinese Mah Jongg game; Chief Stankard, riot gun; Chief Bates, kindergarten set; John Conabee, fishing tackle; Walter Guthman, cupid doll; Dan Symons, story book, "Life of Jesse James"; David Hamlin, book, "Bachelor Retreat"; Mrs. J. Powell, a ham; Mrs Asaph Jones, a cake; Mrs. H. A. Beck, bamboo shooter; Mrs. Walter Guthman, box of candy; Mrs. Wallace Bates a sandy Andy; Mrs. A. Miller, writing paper; Miss C. Uthe, work basket; Mrs John Conabee, can of milk; Marian Stankard, can of pumpkin; Mrs Tom Potter, dozen cookies; Doris Leser, book, "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde," and a hard boiled egg; May Douglas, a spark plug and horn; Mrs. F. Meinke, a writing pencil; Mrs E. J. Stankard, bottle of perfume.

After the presentations refreshments of coffee, cake and ice cream were served, and at a late hour the company broke up all agreeing they had the time of their lives.

YOUNGEST MASTER OF MASONIC LODGE

L. C. Amend.

L. C. Amend, 24, and Bestor G. Brown lodge, A. F. and A. M., No. 133, at Wichita, Kan., is the youngest worshipful master of a Masonic lodge in the United States. When the lodge was organized two years ago, Amend was elected junior warden. Before dispensation was granted by the grand lodge, the senior warden left Wichita. Amend was elected grand warden in March, 1923. Amend is unmarried and is a teller in a local band.

MOSCOW, Dec. 29.—The United States Shipping Board steamship Conejos has been sunk in the Black Sea with the loss of thirty of her crew, said a dispatch from Batoum today.

The Conejos foundered during a violent gale, 150 miles off Batoum.

Many ships have been driven ashore by the storm which swept the eastern part of the Black Sea.

Harbor works at Novorosisk, were badly damaged.

The Russian steamship Sebastian was blown ashore on the Bulgarian coast. A number of other vessels were stranded in the same region. The gale was the heaviest in years.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The United States Shipping Board steamship Conejos, reported sunk in the Black Sea, was a 7,825 ton freighter, plying between Russian and Turkish ports and was under charter to the A. H. Bull Steamship Company, of New York. She carried a crew of 30 men. Hope was held out at the company's office that the crew under command of Captain Falsen had been picked up by another ship after their own vessel had been sunk.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The Italian merchant ship Isonzo has foundered at sea in a storm after a collision with another ship, according to a despatch from Constantinople, this morning. The disaster was said to have taken place off Zonaguilda. The dispatch gave no details as to the loss of life.

The steamship Isonzo foundered after colliding with the Turkish steamship Aldeniz, said a later despatch reecived by Lloyds.

British Ship Missing

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The British steamship Parisot was reported missing today. Attempts to communicate with her by wireless failed.

OVERPOWER BOY GUARD, STEAL WHISKEY

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Forcing their way into the office of the Illinois Wholesale and Manufacturing Company here today, six heavily armed bandits overpowered the boy watchman, bound him securely and then carted away 146 cases of whiskey, valued at $10,000.

Guard Funeral To Prevent Trouble

MANSFIELD, O., Dec. 29 — Sheriff Sells and a posse of deputies are attending the funeral of John Payne, this afternoon, in the northern part of Richland county to prevent any violence breaking out between the Payne and Pettit families. John Payne was shot and killed at his home near Plymouth, Wednesday evening. Wilbur Pettit who has escaped, is charged with the shooting. His twin brother, Willard Pettit, is in the county jail charged with being an accomplice. Members of the Payne family feared violence should the members of the Pettit family attend the funeral.

The Probate court had given John Payne custody of Bertha, the nine year old daughter of Willard Pettit after the death of his wife. Wilbur Pettit and his wife are living apart. It is claimed by members of the Payne family that Wilbur Pettit tried to break up a girlhood friendship between his wife and John Payne's wife. Ill feeling has existed for years between the two families. This is the first time officers have been called to attend a funeral in Richland county.

COTTON BOLL WEEVIL MENACE TO NATION

CINCINNATI, Dec. 29.—While scientific men are wracking their brains and exhausting the vast reservoirs of knowledge to find some effectual method of combating the ravages of the cotton boll weevil, this tiny insect "is costing the world more today than any other," Dr. N. E. McIndoo, of Washington, said here today in andress before Entomological Society Ass'n of America, holding its annual convention in connection with the 75th annual of the Association for the Advancement of Science.

"Regardless of what we do," Dr. McIndoo, "the weevil increases and continues to spread over more ground. It appears thus far to have outwitted man."

To the cotton boll weevil can be laid directly the high price of cotton goods—a cost which is bound to amount year by year unless the pest is controlled—the speaker declared.

SCHOOL HEAD IS EXONERATED BY BOARD

COLUMBUS, Dec. 29.—The State Examining Board today refused to revoke the life certificate of Professor O. B. Clifton, superintendent of Coshocton schools, following an extensive hearing of charges alleging false certification of high school graduation, mishandling of funds and moral turpitude.

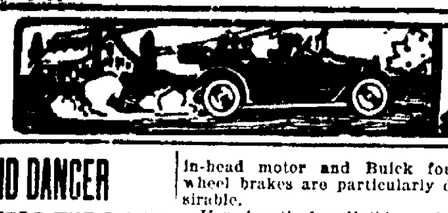

The announcement of the board's decision was made by Frank A. Wilson, secretary of the board, who said that no further details of the board's action would be made public. The result of the vote was not disclosed.

The charges against Superintendent Clifton were filed last summer by Professor E. W. Cresap, former principal of the Coshocton high school and were heard in October by the board which has dismissed all charges against Superintendent is discharged.

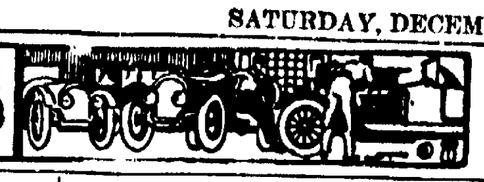

AVON MAN FINED $10 FOR BEATING UP WIFE

Sheriff Underhill was called to Avon yesterday when it was reported to him that Steven Phillips was on a rampage and had beat up his wife. The sheriff arrested Phillips and brought him to jail. This morning Mrs. Phillips came here and swore out a warrant for her husband on a charge of assault and battery. He was taken before Justice George, plead guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

SINGER AND DANCER PREFERS THE BUICK

Gloria Foy, the clever little singer and dancer whose hit in "Up She Goes" has been of stellar proportions has inherited a fortune estimated at more than a million.

One of the first purchases Miss Foy made following the good news was a 1924 Buick Brougham Sedan, as shown above.

The little lady expresses delight with the appointments of her new car and is very audibly appreciative of its mechanical points. She can tell just why the Buick valve-in-head motor and Buick four-wheel brakes are particularly desirable.

Here is a tip for eligible swains. Gloria has collected one-third of her million. She gets another third providing she marries within three years and the final instalment if she lives with her husband ten years.

FORD BUILDING BIG FACTORY IN DENMARK

DETROIT, Dec. 29.—By next spring the Ford Motor Company will have completed an immense new factory at Copenhagen, Denmark, which will be one of the finest in Europe, introducing in that part of the world new standards in design and operation. The growth of the Copenhagen assembly plant since its opening in June 1919 has been remarkable and it is now the second largest foreign company among the foreign companies, first place being held by the plant at Manchester England.

A total of thirteen countries are served by Copenhagen. These include Denmark, Iceland, Faroe Islands, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Free State of Danzig, Estinonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Ukraine and Germany. The demand for Ford cars during the present year has been particularly good in the three Sandanavian countries, Denmark, Norway and Sweden and the Fordson Tractor has come into extensive agricultural use.

Construction work on the new plant at Copenhagen is well under way. The site, covering four and a half acres, is admirably situated on the south harbor of Copenhagen. The building in being erected so that ocean freighters coming up the North sea can dock on two sides of it, permitting direct delivery of assembly material from the Manchester plant and from Detroit, via New York, railroad service also will be direct to the property.

OHIO'S FINEST BUILDING

EXTERIOR AND INTERIOR OF CLEVELAND PUBLIC HALL DURING AUTO SHOW

Ohio's finest building, the magnificent public auditorium in the city of Cleveland that cost approximately $8,000,000, will house the 1924 national convention of the Republican party next June.

Here is a structure adjacent to the heart of Cleveland's down town section adequate for such a convention and built by the people of Cleveland with such a meeting in mind. It is considered the finest auditorium building in the country and is equipped with every convenience necessary for convention or exposition.

In the nearly two years that it has been open it has housed national conventions of large organizations and has been the home of the biggest expositions of the state. Most important of these and most spectacular and interesting is the Cleveland annual automobile show which is again scheduled for this building Jan. 19 to 26. This show which occupies both big exhibition halls finds just the equipment that it needs in this building and an automobile show is the sort of exposition that, because of its magnitude, makes the biggest demands for these conveniences.

Those caring to obtain information regarding the bulding selected for the 1924 Republican convention can get the complete story of what the auditorium offers by visiting the Cleveland automobile show this winter.

The Republicans will find Ohio's finest building superior in every respect to other convention halls. With all supplementary facilities in use nearly 14,000 persons can be seated on the main floor and in the balconies. Eight completely equipped committee rooms are on the second floor and the lower floor will be divided into as many committee rooms as the national convention will require. Lincoln C. Dickey, manager of the auditorium since its opening, predicts that the Republicans will be taken care of to their complete satisfaction in every detail when they go to Cleveland for their 1924 session.

WOMEN DEMAND CLOSED AUTOS

Since women have taken more interest in the family car problem and since many more of them are driving cars, the closed car seems to be the only model that is popular with women, according to Mr Lepper of the Lepper Motor Company, Chevrolet distributors here.

Mr. Lepper declares that nearly every woman who comes into his salesroom to purchase a car with her husband, or alone, always wants the closed models.

"Women hate to sit in a car, and have their hair blown in all directions and have their clothes soiled by rain and dust," said Mr. Lepper. "They prefer comfort when driving and the only comfort they get is with the closed car.

"Driving in a closed car means that the women do not have to bundle up, and when going to a party they need not wear hats and heavy coats and need have no fear of getting their party dresses soiled.

"Is it any wonder, then, that closed cars are being demanded by women, and that is one reason why we have had such a heavy demand for closed Chevrolet motor cars."

Four-Cylinder Two-Passenger Roadster
The Standard of Comparison

Snug Comfort for Winter Driving
Those whose business needs require a car of the roadster type will find this Buick four-cylinder roadster with its winter enclosure ideally suited for cold weather driving. Its roomy body provides ample comfort for two passengers. Large compartments afford unusual space for samples and baggage. The powerful Buick valve-in-head engine assures more than enough power for every kind of road and grade. Added to these features is the greater certainty of control contributed by its Buick four-wheel brakes.

REASON FOR OVERLAND POWER AND ECONOMY

The Overland power plant is Overland-designed and completely Overland-built. The motor is a model of simple design and efficiency. It turns up 27 horsepower on brake test.

It is a powerful, rugged motor that delivers more than the usual number of miles from a gallon of gasoline or a pint of oil.

Motor, clutch and transmission are a unit. These vital parts are completely enclosed and are thus protected from mud and dirt. The transmission is of the selective, sliding-gear type—three speeds forward and reverse. The clutch is of the disc type, easy to operate and remarkably efficient. The clutch runs in a bath of oil.

The Overland comes to you complete—no extras to buy. Its refinement of design makes instant appeal to the man who appreciates fine automotive engineering.

The foot-service and the hand-emergency brakes both operate on brake drums of large diameter and wide face. A hand trimmer automatically adjusts the outer brakes. The Overland has more braking area—actually and relatively—than any light car on the market. There is one square inch of braking surface to every nineteen pounds of car weight.

AUTO BATTERY NEEDS CARE, ASSERTS AUST

The storage battery in an automobile is the one living thing vital part of the automobile.

"Electro-chemical change is taking place in the battery cells that never rests even though the balance of the car may be idle. It is the life, the heart of the machine.

This was the statement of Mr. Aust local Willard dealaer, in discussing the proper care of this all the time, just as the human heart keeps on pumping during sleep. Especially during the winter months is it dangerous to neglect the heart of the motor car.

"As the power goes out, the danger of freezing the battery increases. The sulphuric acid component of the electrolyte in a fully charged battery, will keep the water component from freezing except at a very low temperature.

"But let the battery run down, and it is easy to freeze any day. Once frozen a battery is seldom worth the cost of repairing," Mr. Aust says.

Mrs. Lillian Gilbreth, mother of eleven children, is the possessor of three college degrees and a country-wide reputation as an industrial engineering expert. Mrs. Gilbreth has her offices in New York and resides at Montclair, N. J.

The New Touring Car $295 F.O.B. DETROIT

A Striking Value—at $295
Considering the improved appearance of the new Ford Touring Car, one would naturally expect a proportionate advance in price.
Larger scale production, however, has made it possible to incorporate in this new type touring car a number of decided improvements without increasing its cost to the purchaser.
A comparison extending over a long period of years will reveal the fact that the present price is actually the lowest at which the five-passenger open car has ever been sold.
The Ford Touring Car stands today, as it always has, a most remarkable value in the motor car field.
This car can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

Ohio Toured Annually by Thousands of Motorists; Like Thousands Go Touring From Buckeye State

WHOLE OKLAHOMA FAMILY VISITS OHIO

BRINGS HER OWN DIVING PLATFORM

The owner of the automobile, regardless of its size, is finally becoming able to heed that old admonition of "See America First."

Year by year there is an increasing number of car owners who tour thousands of miles, some in the smallest of roadsters, others in the more capacious machines, most of them loaded to capacity but all with one object: "See America."

Thousands of miles of improved highways make accessible any part of the country. No longer must the sightseer depend on the inconsiderate train schedules. He may stop where he pleases for as long as he pleases. He can see America in his own sweet way, part of it on one trip and part of it on another.

Ohio is becoming one of the most popular states in the union for tourists, as was evidenced by the thousands and thousands of visitors in the 1923 season. Every state in the union and Canada had visitors in the Buckeye State. And from Ohio there went forth other thousands of car owners, intent on seeing the beauties of their country as offered in other states. Each year the numbers are increasing.

This is possible because of the great improvements in the motor cars which have brought about longer life for the machine, greater power, fewer possibilities for trouble, better tires and many other things worked out by automotive engineers as aids to the tourist.

Never were motor cars more rugged for long tours than the 1924 models now coming out, according to Herbert Buckman, manager of the Cleveland Automobile Show, which will be held in Cleveland's magnificent municipal auditorium January 19 to 26. At this exposition, the greatest motor show in Ohio, will be shown models with all the latest devices to produce a maximum of pleasure for the tourist. In connection with this show a motor transport show of busses, trucks and other commercial vehicles will be held in Central Armory, directly across the street.

Statistics show that 45 per cent of the car owners of Ohio use their motor cars for long distance tours. Considering there are nearly 1,000,000 licenses issued in Ohio, one can get an idea of the great amount of touring done by Ohioans.

The camping trip, the picnic drive and the short dash to the bathing beach are other uses for the motor car now.

The hood of the car is often used as a diving platform when the machine can be driven close to the water, as is shown by the young woman in the picture.

The pleasure car of today must be built to withstand all sorts of strange uses and it is to meet these demands that builders of the 1924 models have strengthened their product, according to Manager Buckman.

Franklin Covers 10,265 Miles in 24 Days or At Rate of 429 Miles Daily

Ora Zimmer of Champaign, Ill., driving a stock of 1924 Franklin Sedan recently covered 10,265 miles in 24 days, an average of better than 429 miles a day. On one occasion, Mr. Zimmer chalked up 501 miles in 10 hours and 48 minutes actual driving time, an average of 46.38 miles per hour. His longest single run was 773 miles covered in 22.5 hours elapsed time; the actual running time on this trip amounted to only 79 hours, or an average of 40.64 miles per hour.

FINNEGAN TRIMS MAIDEN IN LORAIN FIGHT ON FRIDAY

Carl Finnegan, local boxer, came off with flying colors in his four round go with Joe Maiden, of Lorain, and the boxing carnival held at the Elk's auditorium, Lorain, last evening. he outpointed his opponent in every round, and made a very good impression on the audience.

The main go between Alex Hart of Leiperville, Pa., formerly of Lorain, and Vincent Pokorni, was a rough ten round battle that aroused the spectators to a high degree. Hart, though outweighed ten pounds, won in as great a battle as has even been fought in this county. Pokorni started in roughing it in the first rounds, and Alex completed the job in the latter part of the battle. Hart was credited with winning every round except the first and last, the eighth being even. The eighth round was a vicious one all the way with the men fighting like wild cats. Hart punished Pokorni with blows to the face, and the latter retaliated by throwing Hart through the roops. Hart came back infuriated and the men were loth to quit when the bell rang.

The semi-final between Vic Cragg and Jimmie Shevlin, of Cleveland, was won by Cragg.

The preliminary between Butch Binder, Lorain, and Young Kivi, Cleveland, was easily won by Binder.

Matt Hinkel, Cleveland sportsman, refereed the main bout, and Billy Culzmann, Cleveland, the other.

HIGH FIVE TRIMS ALUMNI 35 TO 22; GAME HARD FOUGHT

CLAYTON A. RAWSON.

The High school basketball Indians have three scalps in their belt, namely, the Y. M. C. A.'s, West Tech's and Alumni's. As yet the High school scalp remains in its proper place, in other words they have not yet met defeat. From now on the job of keeping that scalp where it belongs will be no easy one.

Wind Up Strong.

Last night they didn't get started until the last quarter. During the first three stanzas the score seesawed back and forth. The Alumni was ahead one minute, tied the next and behind the next, tied again and then in the lead. The score at the end of round three was 18 apiece. Then the High school woke up and roped in 17 points, making the final score, 35 to 22.

The Alumni put up a remarkable fight considering that they had not had any practices together. No one in particular starred for the Alumni. Bills gathered in the most points for that team with three potshots. Wayne Koppes showed some fast pass work and Granger tried to cover everybody until he was sent to the showers for making their personals.

For the High school Braddon, as usual, topped the list. This time, however, another man shared the position. Colgan went on in the second quarter and also scored four field goals and three fouls. Two or three times the Sixth Street five showed flashes of brilliant pass work. If they just make this a habit it is safe to say their undefeated record will continue.

The scoring in the first spasm was started by West and Vessey each shooting a foul. Braddon started his evening's work with a nifty field goal and Vessey made good one out of two foul shots. Webber is given two ties from the foul line and he doubled both of 'em in. Wentz also made a foul, making the score four all. The High school did no more scoring that quarter while the Alumni got three more points.

Heinzerling began the second quarter with a field goal and another foul was shot tieing the score again. Colgan and Pearson each scored, boosting it to 9 apiece. Bill and Braddon both register, leaving both sides even again. Just before the game Parsons managed to cage a pot shot, putting the Alumni ahead 13 to 11. The first quarter was very slow but they gained speed in the second. Note: Lawrence Webber must be trying to reduce. He was seen rolling on the floor once or twice during the evening.

Bills started the third act with two potshots in quick succession. For a time things came to a standstill, neither team getting very close to the baskets. Then they began trying longer shots. Braddon caging a field goal. He followed this with two foul shots and Colgan tied the score with another ringer. The score remained this way until the game ended the quarter.

Forge to Front.

The last stanza started with a rush. A neat pass, Buswell to Colgan, raised the total two points. Braddon and Buswell rolled in one apiece and Colgan failed on a foul shot but followed it up and dropped it in for two points. The Alumni tried to stem the tide but failed and Hess and Renouard added the last four points. Final score, 35-22.

This game although slow in places gave the fans some excitement on account of the close score in the first three quarters. Next week the Crimson and White will have to "start their stuff" to the limit in order to come out on top. They play the strong Fremont five who have also been winning steadily.

OBERLIN ATHLETIC DIRECTOR ASSERTS FOOTBALL ON WANE

ATLANTA, DEC. 29.—In an address before the National Collegiate Athletic Association Friday, Prof. C. W. Savage of Oberlin college decried the dangers of the commercialism and professionalism in spite of American intercollegiate football and advocated the encouragement of intramural athletics as a cure, Prof. Savage said:

For Faculty Control

"For the last seventeen years Oberlin college has had faculty direction of intercollegiate sport, for thirteen years with an undergraduate athletic association, and for the last four years without any such student control. As shown both by finances and by victories, faculty administration has proved more efficient than the old student management, or the combined student and graduate management. In the satisfaction of president and faculty, in the freedom from intercollegiate misunderstandings and in the gain made along the line of athletics for all, there is no comparison between the two systems.

"While it is evident that the president and faculty of Oberlin college look upon intercollegiate sport as reasonable and justifiable, they are far from satisfied with the present status of intercollegiate football. The great intercollegiate football machine, commercialized and professionalized in spirit, has assumed such importance that other interest, especially those of academic and cultural nature, have been pushed aside.

"A Real White Elephant"

"Colleges and universities of the United States today have, in intercollegiate football, a real white elephant on their hands. Unless those who believe in the game are willing to seriously [illegible] the present situation and [illegible] changes in administration, football is in for another term of criticism and outcry likely to result in its abolition. [illegible] of the present [illegible] the representative team [illegible] and the overemphasis on the importance of winning. Football is no longer a sport but a business, a game played by rival coaches.

"The most reasonable cure for the situation is to lessen the value of the individual athlete and of a small group of stars by cutting down the amount of their participation. This could be brought about most wisely by organizing a comprehensive program of intramural competition and selecting representative teams in turn as they rise to the leadership in the series of games inside the institution.

"In my judgment, the best cure for the ills of football is to put so many different students into the representative group that the chance for the individual star to shine will be so circumscribed that he will be lost sight of in the number of players who compete. If it be arranged that this will interfere with finances, I would answer that if the proposed practice is right and justifiable, then administration must of necessity be found. The National Collegiate Athletic association saved football in 1905. Its membership should rally to its support at the present time and see that the present day excesses of the game are so modified as to place it again out of the range of criticism."

MAJORS FAIL TO GRAB "MERCURY" OF THE MINORS

Two glimpses of Lyman Smith.

Lyman Smith, outfielder with the Wichita club in the Western league, and rated as the fastest man on the bases in the league, if not in the minors, apparently has been overlooked by the major league clubs. He stole 56 bases last season. He is booked to remain with Wichita next season, however.

City League Pin Scores

The Coca Colas lost two out of three games to the Moose at the Gala alleys last night in the City league. There was a real contest in each game especially the last one which was not decided until the last frame. Wilcox for the Moose and Branson for the Colas were high with but one point difference.

The super-Zeppelin Dixmude, which was the German L-72 before it was taken over by the French, was a constant source of trouble to the latter. They always had difficulty in handling her. The dirigible was built at Ludwigshafen by the Zeppelin Company and was 675 feet long with the gas capacity of about 1,850,000 cubic feet. Her six 250 horsepower motors were capable of making thirty-five knots an hour and more when aided by favorable winds.

WONDER PLAYER OF BRITISH LINKS IS READY FOR '24

Miss Cecil Leitch.

That Miss Cecil Leitch, wonder golfer of Great Britain, will take her place among the winners again in 1924 is indicated by her spectacular comeback in late season matches. Two years ago an injury to her arm forced her to quit the game for some time. It was months before she was able to attempt her best game. Then she found herself off form. In the Ranelagh foresome late this year Miss Leitch indicated her return to form by playing perfect golf for nine holes although she and her partner were beaten by Miss Joyce Wethered, present British champ, and partner.

LOCAL 'Y' BOYS WIN MATCH AT CLEVELAND

25 Elyria Youths Journey to Fifth City and Show Up Their West Side Athletes

Twenty-five boys of the local Y. M. C. A. boys department journeyed to the West Side Cleveland "Y" yesterday afternoon and covered themselves with glory by taking the Clevelanders down the line in a big Game Tournament staged between the two associations.

In spite of the natural handicap of playing on strange game tables and playing floors the Elyria boys showed their guests that they had something to show them in the way of playing all sorts of games.

Of the first eight events, the local youngsters registered decisive wins in the basketball and jumping relays, the cross dive events in the pool, and took four out of five sets on the ping pong tables. The Cleveland boys copped the indoor baseball, a swimming relay, a pushball contest and won the cue roque tournament.

With the score of the tournament tied 4 to 4 the Elyria boys came through in whirlwind style by giving a fine exhibition of checker-playing and taking the Cleveland representatives into camp in three straight matches for the decisive points of the big tournament.

When his mates had brought the tournament to a tie and with everything depending upon him to win the deciding points Chick Reid, an Elyria boy, went to the checker boards and played a dazzling game on the checked table which left his opponent on the short end when the game was over, and cinched the tournament for the local "Y".

The boys exhibited a fine sense of sportsmanship at all times during the contest according to onlookers who were very favorably impressed by the fine spirit shown on both sides. "Jack" Siekinen, Boys Work secretary of the Elyria "Y", reports that he is quite as proud of the conduct of his charges as of the victory itself.

The boys were taken to Cleveland in a fleet of autos loaned and driven by Mr. Robert Crehore, Ernest Crisp, George Moody, D. Hudson and W. O. McClelland. After the game they enjoyed a lunch prepared in their honor by Secretary and Mrs. M. D. Crack of the Cleveland West Side Association.

On January 18 the boys will go to Youngstown where they will stage a similiar tournament with the boys of the Y. M. C. A. They will go on January 18, be entertained that night as guests of the Youngstown "Y", play the tournament on the following morning and enjoy a sight-seeing tour of the city in the afternoon.

The following are the names of the boys making the Cleveland trip:

BAY VILLAGE

By MRS. WM. W. ALDRICH

BAY VILLAGE, Dec. 29.—On Sunday eve the M. E. church held the Christmas entertainment. The white Christmas giving was observed and all members of the Sunday school gave much to the worthy poor of the parish.

Christmas was observed at the Congregational church Monday evening when a playlette was taken from the Bok of Ruth of the Bible. This was very well rendered, 57 people taking part. The scenes and costumes were in keeping with the ancient costumes worn at that time. A large audience was present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rumbaugh of Bassett road and daughter, Mrs. Graham and husband of Ruth court have started for West Miami, Florida.

Mrs. Elmer Wilkshire of Foote avenue has been absent from her home several days attending the illness and death of her mother, Mrs. Tymer of Worster road, Cleveland.

Robert Hassler is building a new house on Bassett road.

On Saturday the death of Mrs. Mary Sage occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. N. Kirkpatrick of Bassett road. Funeral services were held from the home Wednesday at 2 p. m. Burial at Riverside, Cleveland.

Miss Mary Vardy of Wheeling, W. Va., is spending the holiday season at the Kirkpatrick home.

Bernard Lade and Charles Dodd of the Ohio State University are spending their holiday vacation with their parents.

The third number of the Lyceum course was held at the Park View school auditorium on Thursday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Saddler who had planned to spend two weeks in New York city was delayed by the sudden death of Mrs. Saddlers brother at Springfield, O.

Bernard Lade and Charles Dodd are attending the Ohio State basketball game with Pittsburgh at the Municipal hall, Cleveland, today.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Osborn had for their guests Christmas, Mrs. Myra Osborn, Mr. Harrey Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reynolds.

RAISES 150 BLOODED BIRDS TO GET ONE GOOD EXHIBIT

Leslie D. Slife, LaGrange, an amateur poultry fancier and breeder of single comb White Leghorn chickens, exhibited at the Cleveland poultry show and in a field of twenty-seven cockerels he won fourth. Out of twenty-one pullets he won second, and also seventh in a class of thirty-five. He states that in order to get just one good bird he raised 150 blooded fowls. He takes a great deal of pleasure in raising good birds, just to compare them with those raised by others, and is making quite a success of it.

COULDN'T SEND CHICKEN THIEVES TO STATE PEN

Through a typographical error Thursday the statement was made in yesterday's paper that John Felters and Hugh Knapp, chicken thieves were but 18 years of age and consequently were sent to the reformatory. As a matter of fact both men gave their ages as 28 which would still send them to the reformatory as the law states that those under thirty must be sent to the reformatory for a first offense.

STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The stock market opened slightly irregular, today, small advances in some sections being offset by declines in others.

The oils presented a steady front, Standard Oil of New Jersey, rising 1-8 to 40, Pan American 1-8 to 64 and Producers and Refiners 1-8 to 36 5-8.

United States was unchanged at 98 5-8, Bethlehem Steel up 1-8 to 53 3-4 and Baldwin Locomotive 1-4 to 125 1-4. Studebaker lost 1-8 to 106 3-8.

Rock Island recovered one point to 22, Chicago and Northwestern 1-2 to 49 1-4, but Northern Pacific declined 3-8 to 51 5-8 and Southern Railway 1-4 to 37.

Corn Products rose 3-4 to 154, Continental Can 1-4 to 56 and Anaconda 1-8 to 36.

The remainder of the list showed small fractional changes.

DINNER STORIES

This story concerns a Sunday school band of Christmas carol singers. They sallied forth on Christmas Eve to sing at the houses of various members of the congregation. They were generally well received, and, in addition to donations of money, they were often treated to refreshments.

It was decided to risk a visit at the home of an old man who had some of the characteristics of Scrooge, and the band formed under his bedroom window, singing a well known carol. In a few minutes the window was opened and the favored one's nightcapped head appeared.

"How many are there of you?" he asked.

"Twenty," was the hopeful response.

"Very well," he said, "throwing a large pailful of water over them, "divide that among you!"

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Madge's Deductions Drew Admissions from Dicky.

I HAD not long to wait for the meaning of Dicky's sudden change from anger to a humorous, self-satisfied scrutiny of me. The words "wounding Bess Dean's vanity" were scarcely out of my mouth before he answered with a meaning smile which enlightened—and enraged me.

"That's one of your best little stunts, isn't it, trying to annex poor Bessie's little nanny? Well, let me tell you something, my dear. That's a little job you won't succeed at in a thousand years. She is altogether too canny a lady. But if it's any satisfaction to you I can relieve your mind on Leila's account. Confession is good for the soul, they say, so I'll give my spiritual organ a treat. Alfred had nothing to do with that little party in which the car was wrecked, for your logical deduction was right—we did wreck it. Alf will have to get another one, when he straightens out the insurance on that one—but yours truly was alone responsible for the expedition. So you see, your sympathy for Leila has all been wasted. You'd better——"

He broke off in confusion, which I knew was assumed. I was seized with a sudden desire to laugh, for his ruse was a little too transparent. Sometime during our wordy battle he had become obsessed with the idea that it was my own jealousy which was behind my animosity against Bess Dean, instead of concern for Leila. The discovery had appeased his anger and tickled his vanity, and his "confession" had been deliberately concocted out of whole cloth to fan my anger to a higher flame.

He Is Not Convincing.

Quoting his own slangy parlance to myself I resolved grimly that he "would get away with nothing like that;" and I finished his sentence with a mocking little laugh.

"I'd better expend my sympathy on myself because of your per-r-fidy I suppose. No, Dicky, dear, it won't do. Your efforts are well meant, but neither particularly artistic nor convincing."

"Oh!" I'll bite. What d'ye mean by that?" he demanded sulkily.

"Just this," I retorted coolly. "There probably are half a dozen distinct reasons why I should be jealous of you"—Dicky gave a distinct start and eyed me suspiciously—"if I ever indulged in that most unprofitable of all exercises. But Bess Dean is not one of the half-dozen reasons. Neither is the friend whom for reasons of her own she brought to the joy ride into which she inveigled you and Alfred. You 'inveigled' is just the word, and if you were honest with yourself or with me, you would acknowledge that Bess Dean, for no reason except to gratify her—abnormal—vanity——"

Dicky Interrupts.

"I know two or three more forcible adjectives——" Dicky interrupted with a gibing little laugh.

"Has made a dead set at Alfred," I continued calmly, 'regardless of Leila's feelings, and has bamboozled him into thinking her the original all-around, faithful, family friend, with the corollary that dislike of her on Leila's part is rank ingratitude and unworthy prejudice. Nice prospect for Leila, but she isn't going to have to face it thanks to Dr. Braithwaite. Just where you come in I don't know——"

"Nor care," Dicky finished roughly, his face darkening. "You don't need to rub that in, old dear. I'm quite aware of the fact that you wouldn't turn a hair no matter what you found out about me just so long as I didn't make a public spectacle of myself and hurt your vanity. But just as an evidence of good faith and distinctly NOT for publication to Leila, I'll tell you where I came in. It was also in the role of faithful friend, trying to keep Alfred from making a bally ass of himself. You're dead right about the Dean dame, and most of the rest of it. Very clever deduction. But what you didn't know was that I've been trying to beat the truth about Bess Dean into Alf's noddle for some time, but I've had to go about it diplomatically. I'm glad Edwin has been able to use a sledge hammer. Now, if you'll kindly excuse me, I'm going to get out of here for a few minutes."

He sprang up, seized his hat and coat and went hastily out of the door, which slammed after him as if reflecting his turbulent mood,

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

BY ROY K. MOULTON

A SLICE OF LIFE

A friend of mine,
Who is quite a
Raconteur,
Told me
This one:
A friend of his
Was motoring out
On Long Island.
In a secluded section
He ran out
Of gas,
No garages near.
He hailed a few
Cars
But they did
Not stop.
Finally, a big
Covered truck came Along.
He stopped it,
A man jumped off
The truck,
Grabbed the fellow's hand,
And jumped back
On the truck
And away.
The stalled motorist
Opened his hand
And in it was
Five hundred dollars!
Can you beat it?
I can't. —Bill Nethi.

SOME PEOPLE STILL BELIEVE

That hot mince pie has killed more men than war or contagious diseases.

That a lawyer always sizes up a man's bank account before taking his case.

That a poetic dreamer is necessarily equipped with unusual brain power.

That any fake that comes from Europe is worth more than one invented here.

That a man's wealth is shown by the kind of automobile he drives.

That Russell Sage dressed like a tramp and that Pocahontas was beautiful.

That George Washington never got mad or used any impatient language.

The janitor of our apartment is not at all up-stage. In fact he is quite democratic and does not often impress us with the fact of his social and financial superiority. He has taken us out riding several times in his automobile and has introduced us to some of his friends. Yesterday he did us the greatest kindness we have received in many years. He showed us his new winter overcoat and whispered to us confidentially that he could tell us where we could get one exactly like it for $345. Really, some janitors have hearts. We believe they have been slandered for years.

SOVIET PROPAGANDA IN THE UNITED STATES

We one time heard a man remark concerning a speaker to whom he had listened for an hour "that man is positively the worst informed man I ever heard speak." We imagine that some day we will find that we have been listening to a great many of the "worst informed" men in regard to Russia that it would be possible for us to hear in regard to any nation. We have grown so prejudiced in respect to Russia that we will only listen to what we desire to hear and of course we only believe that to which we listen.

Prof. Edward Ross, Professor of Sociology in the University of Wisconsin, has just finished a book on the Russian Soviet Republic. In the light of the controversy occasioned by Secretary Hughes' statement in respect to Russia, Prof. Ross' book carries quite a challenging aspect. Prof. Ross is not at all a socialist. He has had no faith in the experiment which is being tried out in Russia but neither has he patience with his fellow countrymen who by their propaganda are endeavoring to render impossible any value coming from the experiment because of their false propaganda. The Professor shows up in detail forty-nine varieties of lies which he proves have been told concerning Russia, among them the nationalizing of women, and various massacres.

In his book he asks seven questions, which questions are practically the chief allegation in his book, and they are as follows:

"Do you know that in March, 1918, the Soviet Government offered to resume fighting the Germans if we would furnish munitions and supplies and that our Government ignored the offer?

"That originally the Red Army was aimed at the Germans and that the allied officers helped organize it?

"That the 'Sisson letters' which in 1918 caused the American public to execrate the Soviet leaders are now acknowledged to be forgeries?

"That our State Department has pigeonholed reports which if given out would have made possible the poisoning of the American public with lies by Russian 'emigres'?

"That the Russian division of our State Department has become a nest of persons connected by birth marriage, or fellowship with the Russian aristocracy?

"That the Yudenich drive on Petrograd was financed by selling the famished Esthonians, at fancy prices, food supplied by the American Relief Commission?

"That in Kolchak's flight from Omsk 60 trainloads of 'whites,' mostly women and children, became stalled in the snow and froze....?"

Regardless of our ideas and regardless of how wrong the ideas of the Russian leaders are, there is nothing gained by insisting upon falsehoods or blinding ourselves to the truth.

Senator Norris of Nebraska says that it is an evidence of more Palmerism and more red raids upon innocent people soon to come. Tchicherin, the Russian foreign minister, denies in toto that his government has done anything in the way of foreign propaganda. Those who are most familiar with the Russian situation all assert that Russia is in a better condition than any of the large countries of Europe. But denials and assertions like these avail little against the tide of prejudice which has been flowing in ever since the Revolution of 1917 in Russia.

The Soviet government has stood ready, according to Tchicherin, to enter into negotiation with the United States government at any time with reference to the property confiscation of Americans by the agents of the Revolution. But they have demanded that in those negotiations should be included the damage done by the United States when it sent American soldiers into Russia and carried on a war against a country against which war had not been declared. This American campaign into Russia, he claims, led to the death of hundreds of Russian soldiers, and the destruction of thousands of dollars worth of property.

Ever since Raymond Robins returned from Russia after the Revolution and told the truth about that ill-fated country, there has been a conspiracy somewhere to discredit any one who said anything favorable about that country. The people of Russia suffered more than any other country as a result of the war. For centuries they were trampled under the heel of Romanoff oppression. And now, at a time when they have thrown over that government which oppressed them, instead of receiving the sympathy of the world, they are treated as outcasts.

We do not question Mr. Hughes' motives. We do question his judgment and his facts. We believe that the truth will soon come out as it has already come out since the statement of the State Department was issued. There are all too many who are ready to believe anything bad about Russia. But there is an increasing number who are becoming very skeptical about anything adverse to Russia, because they have been deceived already at least forty-nine times, according to Prof. Ross.

We hope the Foreign Affairs committee of the Senate will thoroughly investigate the whole situation when Congress reconvenes in January. The people of the United States are entitled to the whole truth, and certainly Russia is entitled to a square deal after the sufferings of centuries of oppression.

KOMICAL TELEGRAMS

JIM ARMITAGE, Himself
By

Here we are with old 1924 staring us in the face and everybody listening to "Happy New Year" on the radio. It wasn't like that a few short years ago.

It's only about twenty years since they had to quit ringing the curfew in Elyria, because they couldn't get anyone to stay up that late.

That was before B. V. D.'s came into style and red flannels tickled the natives to death.

And everybody had money in the bank and appendicitis hadn't even started to allow the doctors to retire at an early age.

The Green Line didn't kick about the busses, but the New York Central did a lot of kicking about the Green Line.

And all the "Maids" were "Hired girls" then and they drew about three berries a week, and only had an afternoon a month off.

There weren't even any "Ford jokes" then. Wasn't that tough?

Girls got up in the morning and wore the same complexion to work they went to bed with. Druggists even wrote prescriptions.

And what would the humming birds who run the capers in "The Virginia reel" say if they happened into a Saturday night dance parlor today?

You could walk right across the street at noon, and not an automobile would hit you.

And there weren't even gas bills to worry about. You could take that money and get "Lit up" with it.

Fellow would go home before one in the morning and his wife wouldn't think he was a burglar.

For a dollar sixty you could buy meat enough to stock Tod's market. Not that much wouldn't buy hamburg enough to last over Sunday.

Course it took more material to make the "Lo dee dos" then. But if your wife only had fifteen dresses she didn't "Have nothing to wear."

And the Democrats were Democrats and the Republicans were Republicans, now they're either "Wet" or "Dry."

You could call on your girl and make a nickles worth of gum drops do the work that a pound of chocolates and a box of flowers do today.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

"NEW YORK SHOWED PURITAN SUBSTITUTE FOR ALCOHOL," SAYS WHITE

W. A. WHITE

The sooner New York realizes that she's not America, that she's an almost foreign, wholly unnecessary, but completely subject province, the more comfortable she will be," opined William Allen White, famous Kansas editor, in an interview in New York. He however doesn't look with disfavor on the alien influence.

"Though I'm a Puritan, though I hold by the great principles by which our West lives, I am glad foreign born come here. They bring something of lightness, of beauty and of grace that the Puritan lacks.

"The Puritan in the West is vastly efficient and prosperous. He is the backbone of America. But he lacks a certain lightness of touch which you have here. And life is pretty dreary without it.

"And you do it better here (in New York) than any other place in the world. The man who still thinks he has to go to Paris or Vienna or some place like that for his lighter touch is a fool. You do things here and you do them in a beautiful way.

"But that's not all of life and it isn't all of America. I said before that the Puritan was efficiency and prosperity and justice. That's why he produced prohibition—and New York helped show him what the substitute might be for alcohol and he is rapidly adopting the substitute.

"The Puritan didn't turn to prohibition for any moral reason. He did it for reasons of the strict economies that dominate his soul. He was tired of the five day week, tired of blue Monday, tired of wrecks on the railroads and mistakes in the shops, tired of work left undone on the farm. Then a lot of the Puritans got to owning automobiles and they were more determined than ever that their nice car should not be messed up on the roads by a lot of alcoholic carelessness in other cases.

"Why, the order of the Kansas railroads that any man who was a regular frequenter of a joint, an illicit saloon, would lost his job did more to dry up Kansas than all that the long haired men and shored haired women had been able to do in a generation of their moral preachments against the demon rum."

Getting to the subject of small towns, Mr. White said: "Sinclair Lewis was pretty nearly right about the drabness of Gopher Prairie. But that's a town of only three thousand. Five thousand is better and ten or twenty thousand, our size, is better still. We're getting on pretty well, not well enough, but pretty well in those towns. But we still don't know how to be really gay—Oh! my lord, no! Some of it is awful.

"We have everything else. We have the movies for romance and we're getting the stage for illusion and we are getting good collections of paintings, collections that thousands of people go to see, to teach us line and color."

Course you left earlier, today they start home just when her father starts getting ready for work.

Yes sir, old 1924 makes one think—It was different in the old days.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

The plan for world peace, which has won the Bok prize, is soon to be announced. The world will be curious to hear, and yet the world knows without being told. World peace demands evolution. It demands a change in the hearts of men—especially of political leaders—which it will take generations, perhaps ages to work out. Evolution works almost inconceivably slow. Thus do men change in their minds and spirits. But they do change. Little by little they grow more intelligent and they grow more kind. And the time will come when there will be peace on earth.

Despite the creaking of the law enforcement machinery, four years of prohibition have done some things for the American people. A decrease in the prison ratio has meant that about twenty thousand fewer persons have been sent to jail than in four years before. A cut in the death rate has saved the lives of eight hundred and seventy-three thousand persons, it is estimated. Seventy-four million dollars in charity funds have been released for constructive work. These figures are from the chief promoters of prohibition. It is doubtful if the amazing results set forth by them can all be attributed to the 18th amendment. But even allowing for the inaccuracies of enthusiasm, they tell a remarkable story. The policy of prohibition has now become, after much struggle, an accepted fact. A year from now will see an even more surprising increase in such acceptance.

We are facing a new year. We shouldn't be told everything we ought to do. That would be too much to take on at once. Suppose we just remember not to be dishartened when changes come in our circumstances—even when those changes seem at first to be misfortunes. Let us take with us this bit of testimony told by Col. House:

"Sometimes, looking backward, it appears to me that nearly every piece of good luck I ever had led directly to a bad result; and all things I thought were bad luck when they happened, in the end turned out to be the foundation stone of opportunity."

It may prove unhealthy to think about yourself too much. But you may get into a much more unhealthy state if you do not give yourself a good careful looking-over once in a while. Analyze yourself—your strong points and your weak, your habits and your behavior. Buy or borrow a good book on psycho-analysis and learn what it is that makes the wheels go around. Sometimes you may find that a very little thing is the matter with you—and a very little thing may prove a great matter. Sir Ronald Ross, you know, discovered that a mosquito carried a malarial germ. Both of those were little things but they proved to be a great matter. A little thing sometimes changes the habits of a race, say nothing about an individual.

45 Years Ago

SHERIFF-ELECT H. E. CORNING announced the appointment of A. J. Blanchard as his chief deputy.

HARD COAL WAS SELLING at from $6 to $7.50 a ton.

THE LADIES OF ELYRIA announced that they would keep open house on New Years day. The sleighing was good and the gentlemen were preparing to make party calls.

A CORRESPONDENT WANTED to know what right the city council had to convert the town hall into an opera house and make the tax payers pay for it.

THE COLD WEATHER arrived with a vengeance. The thermometer dropped to sixteen degrees below zero, and was accompanied by a terrific blizzard of snow and wind.

THE HOME OF PETER Valerius on East Bridge street was destroyed by fire. The weather was cold, the wind blew and the flues of the steamer had frozen and blew up, so the firemen could not extinguish the flames.

THE ELYRIA GAS & WATER Co. were booking orders from those who wished to install artificial gas on their premises. They were charging $2.50 a thousand feet.

THE NEW OPERA HOUSE was opened by the famous Effie Ellsworth and company. They stayed two days and gave "A Heroine in Rags," and Shakespeare's "As You Like It."

DAY'S MUSIC STORE

What is the measure of a wise and suitable Christmas Gift? One that is appreciated long after the holiday season is over.

The twenty families who have new Victrolas will get pleasure and profit from their Christmas instruments through all the long winter evenings and for years to come.

A couple of shipments for Christmas trade came in this week and we now have all but one model of Victrola, so this is a good place to spend the check that "Dad" or "Uncle" gave you.

Another belated holiday order just received is three dozen "Children's Nursery Tunes" consisting of three small double records neatly put up in a little book which contains the words of the record. Price $1. per set.

This week's new release of Victor Records has something for every new Talking machine owner as well as the old "fans." The world's most famous pianist Paderewski, has a double Red Seal as does Hulda Lashanska, Elsie Baker sings beautifully. Song Without Words, Lou Holtz and Irene Bordoni sing comic numbers, Victor Symphony Orchestra plays "1812" Overature in two parts.

Seven new fox trots and one waltz are snappy dance records by Manhattan Merrymakers, David Silverman, Brook Johns and a new organization of the Victor list Jack Chapman and the famous Drake Hotel Orchestra.

Did you know that we had a Phonograph that plays all makes of records without the use of an attachment, many of them better than the various machines bearing the same name as the record will do. This is the SONORA that makes no records of their own, but play all kinds. A beautiful cabinet and a good motor make this a very desirable instrument.

The Gulbransen Registering Piano is so easy to play that a child of four can operate it while the instruction rolls furnished free enable an adult to imitate hand playing so that a ptrson in another room can not tell the difference.

DAY'S HARDWARE

Six years ago we started the plan of holding a January sale to clear out odds and ends in housefurnishing goods, overstock of sizes, slightly used or damaged articles, etc. The 1924 sale is in full swing with many genuine savings.

Starting this morning this sale will continue until Saturday night, January 12th. We invite you to come in and look around, even though you do not care to buy.

A few standard articles which we sell are not reduced in prices as agreed with the makers, but aside from these, every item of the big stock of tin, granite, aluminum, wooden, iron, galvanized ware, etc., is offered at real sale prices.

Mr. Scott delivered an Easy Electric Washer to Mr. E. E. Stentz of Chatam, Medina county for Christmas. The Easy is the biggest selling washer on the market because of its merits. When will you get yours?

Mrs. Hattie Bonner, mother of our Mr. C. W. Bonner had the misfortune to fall and break her arm and hip on Christmas day.

We have a calendar with large figures which we will be pleased to give our friends who call for them.

Unlike many stores we do not start our inventory until February 1st, so can give you the best of service on your hardware and housefurnishing needs.

Better order that snow shovel today; there is a big snow storm overdue and you will need it some of these mornings. Get your radiator alcohol and tire chains too, we can't have this weather forever.

Thanks for the good business of 1923 and we wish you a Happy New Year.

IRISH SINGER PLEASES HERE

Walter Scanlan sang himself into the hearts of his audience at the Rialto theatre during the presentation of "The Blarney Stone," a four act comedy by Edward E Rose. Scanlan took the part of Brian O'Lunn, editor of the "Blarney Stone," and sang one or two songs in each act in a beautifully clear and sweet high tenor voice which he used with an artists taste and expression.

The play contains a clever plot, and Mr. Scanlan also demonstrated that he could act. Jack McClellan made a good Peter O'Linn, brother of Brian, and Arthur Griffin, as Timothy McCann, N. Y. attorney, Jack Kearney, as Onv Dolan, printer's apprentice were also good. Emerin Campbell, made a very capable Mary O Linn, Brian's mother, while Lillian Skeader and Olive Davenport also played their parts well. The house was not as well filled as it should have been, but those present enjoyed the show.

TWO CHURCHES STIRRED BY "MODERNISTS'" DEMANDS

Above, Bishop William T. Manning, the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant and the Rev. Leighton Parks. Below, the Rev. Stuart L. Tyson, the Rev. John Roach Straton, the Rev. Lee W. Heaton and the Rev. Charles F. Potter.

Two churches are stirred with internal dissension over the demand for modern interpretations of the Bible.

When the Rev. Lee W. Heaton of Ft. Worth Tex., denied the virgin birth of Christ he was ordered by his bishop to appear for trial for heresy. The incident threatens a split in the Episcopal church, many prominent Episcopal churchmen taking his side, including the Rev. Stuart L. Tyson, vice president of the Modern Churchmen's Union and the Rev. Leighton Parks, famous rector of St. Bartholomew church, New York.

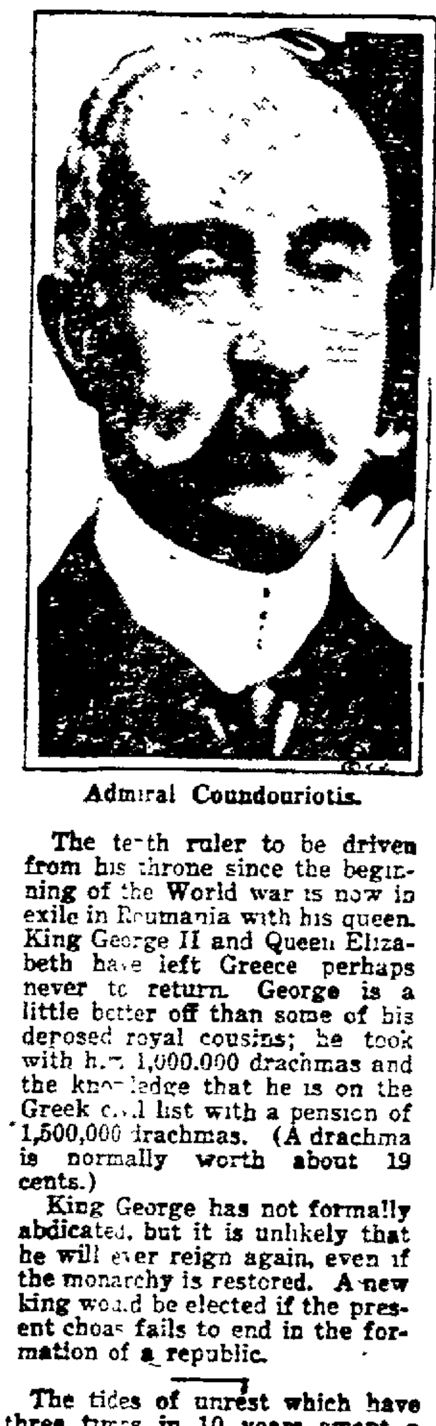

Bishop William T Manning, who a few months ago demanded that the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant either recant his declaration of nonbelief in the divinity of Christ or resign, has been drawn into the controversy.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, New York, and the Rev. Charles F. Potter of West Side Unitarian church, two of the most prominent New York preachers, are engaged in a series of debates on fundamentalism, Dr. Straton defending the literal interpretation of the Bible, and Dr. Potter pleading for the preaching of religion in the light of modern discoveries.

George II and Elizabeth, exiled king and queen of Greece.

Admiral Coundouriotis.

The tenth ruler to be driven from his throne since the beginning of the World war is now in exile in Roumania with his queen. King George II and Queen Elizabeth have left Greece perhaps never to return. George is a little better off than some of his deposed royal cousins; he took with him 1,000,000 drachmas and the knowledge that he is on the Greek civil list with a pension of 1,500,000 drachmas. (A drachma is normally worth about 19 cents.)

King George has not formally abdicated, but it is unlikely that he will ever reign again, even if the monarchy is restored. A new king would be elected if the present choas fails to end in the formation of a republic.

The tides of unrest which have three times in 10 years swept a ruler from the throne of Greece this time left Admiral Coundouriotis, former minister of marine, in power as regent.

LATEST HATS FOR WINTER AND FOR SUNNY SOUTH

[illegible] ... The trimming ... bands of ... encircling the ... had ... ribbon ... This time ... large crushed ... and rose colored. The hat is a semi-poke and is white felt.

For the girl who plans a trip to the southland to stay while the tardy northern spring is on its way the "sailor-poke" shaped hat of rough straw in a delft blue is just the thing. A vari-colored ribbon band is its only, but quite sufficient, trimming.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

SEN. WILLIAM C. BRUCE

William Cabell Bruce, Democratic senator from Maryland, is pointed out to capital visitors these days as the most talked of man in congress. And this despite the fact that he is serving his first term, has been in the upper house but a few weeks

WM. C. BRUCE

Among his moves which have drown the spotlight on him are his vote for Sen Albert B Cummins, a Republican, for chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee his unqualified indorsement of Secretary Mellon's tax reduction program and his outspoken opposition to the bonus.

Many senators spend years in the national legislature without stepping that boldly into the foreground.

He says the tax problem is a non-partisan issue. He says the principle of the bonus is vicious and it is supported by a loud minority. He adds he had two sons in the war. He voted for Cummins as a vote against LaFollette's faction.

Bruce is sixty-three but looks younger He was born in Virginia and attended the University of Virginia and his friends point with pride to the fact that while he was in school he won a medal for debating against such opposition as Woodrow Wilson. He has long been rated as one of the leading members of the Maryland bar and served as general counsel of the public service commission in his state—centering his efforts in regulating corporations.

He is an author of some note. "Benjamin Franklin Self Revealed" being among his efforts This book won him the Pulitzer prize of 1919 for the best serious book of that year.

"Below the James River" and "John Randolph of Roanoke" are two other books which have won attention

Bruce takes pride in his ancestry, tracing it back to the Scottish hero, Robert Bruce.

TWO MENTIONED FOR MacDONALD CABINET POSTS

J. C. Wedgwood.

James O'Grady.

J. C. Wedgwood, member of parliament and noted ship constructor, is being strongly mentioned for the post of secretary of admiralty in the Ramsay MacDonald cabinet expected to be formed in England shortly.

James O'Grady, secretary of the British National Federation of General Workers, who was sent to Russia to negotiate the exchange of British prisoners and was jailed by the Soviet government, is expected to be air minister.

GIRL ANARCHIST "REGRETS" SHE DID NOT KILL DAUDET

Germaine Berthon.

On trial for the slaying of Marius Plateau, reporter for "Acton Francaise," Paris royalist newspaper, Germaine Berthon, noted girl anarchist, says that her "only regret" is that she did not kill Leon Daudet, editor of the paper. She blames Daudet for the war, the assassination of the Socialist leader, Jean Jaures, and the campaign against M. Malvy.

"UNCLE WIGGILY" AT RIALTO MONDAY AFTERNOON AND NIGHT.

Uncle Wiggily's Bunny Orchestra, Featured with Jean Grohs' Marionette Players, At Rialto Theatre, Matinee and Night, Monday, Jan. 31st.

MME. DU BARRY AT RIALTO SUNDAY

The most elaborate offering of the year will head the Sunday concert bill at the Rialto Theatre tomorrow. Coming to Elyria direct from a sensational triumph at the Majestic Theatre, Chicago, is Mme. DuBarry and her Grand Opera Sextette, offering a magnificent spectacle, entitled "Bits From Famous Operas." To hear this sextette alone, is worth far more than the price of admission asked. The act is beautifully staged and costumed.

Another feature will be the appearance of "The Cavana Trio" in what they term "A Comic Circus Classic." It is a riot of fun and versatality. Others on the bill are "The Harkins Girls" offering "Moments in Melodyland." Then there is Claude Wade, a clever chap, in songs, dances and stories. Next is Norman and Landee, late feature with Veleska Suratt, clever funsters, in their latest comedy skit, entitled "Don't Rush Me". Another sensation is Frank and Betty Russell, the "Speed Demons of the Air" the fastest aerial act in the world.

A two reel comedy and a one reel News Weekly complete the bill.

"THE UNWANTED CHILD" AT RIALTO ON JAN. 3

"The Unwanted Child," Florence Edna May's sensational success which comes to the Rialto theatre for matinee and night Thursday Jan. 3, is a happy combination of comedy, romance and drama, with superlative settings. If all the world loves a lover, a large section of that world despises the adventures of a dissolute and intriguing lover and what does this same world think of his accomplice? Florence Edna May, celebrated authoress, had this in mind when she wrote "The Unwanted Child."

The play is a fine bit of dramatic craftmanship, and its cast presents it with such consummate artistic skill that it will compel theatregoers to extol its merits on every street corner; for there is a thrill in "The Unwanted Child" a thrill so effectively woven into the play that it carries the spectator to the pinnacle of sunrise dramatics. It has become a tradition that a Florence Edna May play brings a sure prospect of an evening in the company of skilled artists. Also that it means something superior in the judgment this authoress has in the settings, in the use of lights and in the effects to simulate nature, all parts of which is recognized by the term "atmosphere." An onlooker tells us Miss May seems to reach the high point of her play in the earlier scenes, expressed with much naturalness and directness. While in the last act her emotional tensity has dramatic force it is as the affectionate maiden of the first act and the distracted bride parting with her love for the sake—? Seats are on sale Wednesday. The matinee is for ladies only. No children admitted.

THEATRES

Dreamland — Charles Jones, Maurice Flynn and Ruth Clifford in "Hell's Hole," a western story as full of adventures as an egg is of meat. The story of a man who becomes involved in a train hold-up and is wrongfully sent to prison. He escapes and finds the real thief, who is about to marry the girl that the prisoner intended to. He captures him, and just then in comes a sheriff's posse after the escaped convict. The real thief, who is about to marry thing turns out all right on the finish.

Grand—"The Age of Desire." The story of a mother who was torn between love for her son by a former marriage, and a great longing for the things that riches could buy, and who was afraid to tell her husband to be of the former marriage for fear he would not marry her. She made a mistake and repudiated the son, and then longed for him as only a mother can. In addition there is a new comedy and a new program.

American—"Six Days," featuring Eleanor Glyn, who wrote the story, Corinne Griffith and Frank Mayo, a trio of stars well-known on the screen. The picture tells of the days spent under ground and of the adventures that befell those involved. Also a fine comedy and the news pictures.

Colonial—"The Girl Who Came Back." This is a guaranteed production that the management are proud to book. There are some real heart throbs in the picture, together with a number of thrilling events that are bound to please. Also a new comedy and an extra picture.

Rialto—Monday night, "Uncle Wiggily, and the Marionettes." Thursday, "The Unwanted Child," a drama that tells of the tragedy of the baby, "what wasn't wanted."

SAYS ROBBERY A HOAX

COLUMBUS, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Esther Powell, 23, confessed to police here last night that her story to detectives of being beaten over the head and robbed by a negro was a hoax, which she concocted to cover up minor thefts from roomers.

CHINA NEEDS ASSISTANCE

PEKIN, Dec. 29.—A second world conference in Washington to consider China's plight is being considered as a way out of the situation now confronting the Peking government, it was reported today.

Dr. Jane Walker, one of England's most noted specialists on tuberculosis has come to America to investigate the methods and work of tuberculosis sanitariums on this side.

Grand Theatre

Uncle Wiggily and all his funny folks will arrive in Elyria Monday. Uncle Wiggily, hero of hundreds of adventures, comes to the Rialto Theatre, for a matinee and evening performances. This will be gladsome tidings to every child in Elyria, between the ages of 6 and 96 years.

With him come Nurse Jane, Jack the Monkey, Dr. Possum, Jack Bowow, Skeesicks and many other friends of Uncle Wiggily. The Skillery Skallery Alligator, The Fuzzy Fox and the Beautiful Pipsiswah, the enemies of Uncle Wiggily, the Rabbit Gentleman, also intend to be present is reliably reported. NEW YEAR'S DAY AT RIALTO THEATRE

The Rialto Theatre will offer its patrons as its New Year attraction an all Star bill of high class vaudeville and pictures. No better way to start the New Year could be found, than an afternoon or evening visit to the Rialto theatre.

Heading the six act bill will be the return engagement of that riot of fun and this seasons vaudeville sensation, Fred Heider, late star of "Listen Lester" who was at the Rialto theatre, Sunday Dec. 16. It was owing to the demands of the many patrons of the Rialto Theatre to see and enjoy Mr. Heider again that Manager Woodward has secured his services to headline this New Years day programme.

A full list of acts appearing will be found in the columns of the Chronicle Telegram Monday.

Three performances will be given. Matinee at 2:30 p. m. Night at 6:30 and 8:20 p. m.

THE STORY

The story, you know, is about Laline Kingston, who is engaged to marry a man she does not care for, and Dion Leslie, a former buddy of Laline's soldier brother, who was killed in the war.

Dion and Laline love each other, but cannot marry, because Laline's mother wants her to wed a rich man. In visiting the grave of the dead brother, they accidentally explode a mine trap, and the two of them, with Father Jerome a priest who acted as a guide to show them the grave, are caught in a dugout.

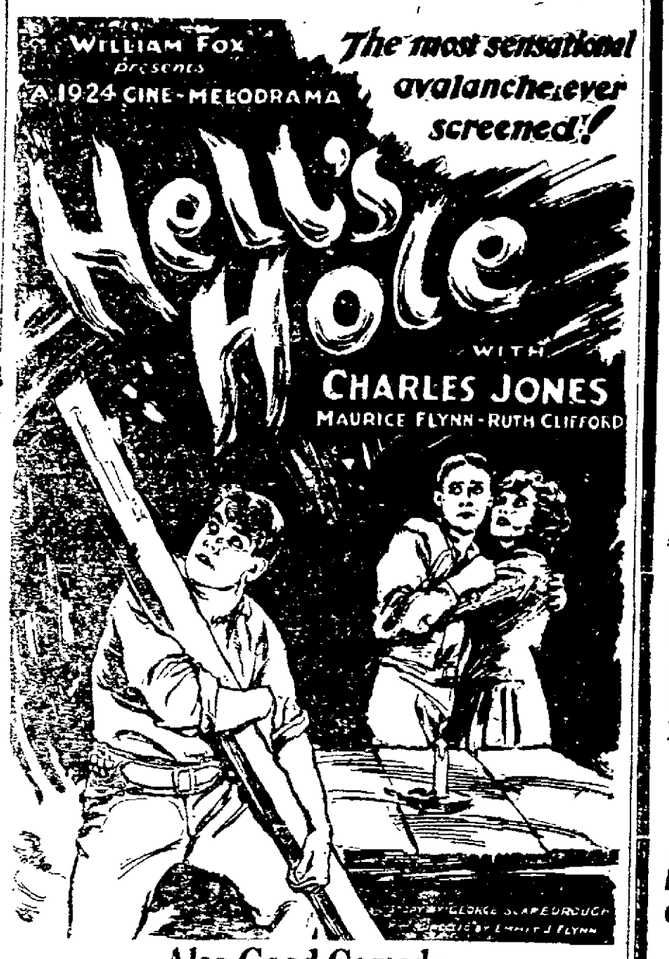

Father Jerome says that the air and provisions will last only SIX DAYS, so in order that the remainder of their lives may be happy the two lovers persuade Father Jerome to marry them. But dreadful things happen. Father Jerome is killed, Dion falls into a chalk mine, over which the dugout has been built, and Laline stumbles about the passages half-crazed.

You will just have to come and see the finish. It is not as you think.

GEO. ROLAND SCOTT DIED ON THURSDAY

OBERLIN, Dec. 29.—George Roland Scott, son of E. M. Scott of 280 East Lorain street, died suddenly yesterday morning at about 10:00 o'clock in the Oberlin hospital of acute endocarditis The boy, who was eleven years of age, has never been very strong, but was in fairly good health until the Christmas vacation when he complained of headaches. He was not really sick until Thursday evening when a doctor was called.

He was taken to the Oberlin hospital Thursday night and had a restful sleep there. He was apparently much better in the morning at 9:30 when his parents inquired about him. A few minutes later he became restless and asked to have one of his sisters come and sit bes de h.m. As the little girl was getting ready to go to the hospital word was received that George had died.

The boy leaves his parents and seven other children in the family. A sister died a few years ago during the influenza epidemic.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Greetings for the New Year!

WE extend to all our friends a cordial, hearty wish for happiness and prosperity.

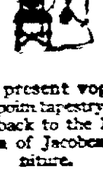

And this is a fitting occasion to reaffirm our creed, with hopes that it will make us as many friends in the future as it has in the past.

We believe in a steadfast policy of offering only good furniture, and of offering it at fair prices —based on sound values.

We believe that within our community there are enough people who care for furniture of distinction, beauty and permanent qualities to justify our policy of excluding everything that does not come up to the high standard we have always maintained.

This is our creed, and we take this opportunity to repeat it and to pledge that it will be lived up to as scrupulously through the new year as it has been through former years —and as it will be throughout our whole future of steadfast service.

"UNCLE WIGGILY" AT RIALTO MONDAY AFTERNOON AND NIGHT.

Uncle Wiggily's Bunny Orchestra, Featured with Jean Grohs' Marionette Players, At Rialto Theatre, Matinee and Night, Monday, Jan. 31st.

MME. DU BARRY AT RIALTO SUNDAY

The most elaborate offering of the year will head the Sunday concert bill at the Rialto Theatre tomorrow. Coming to Elyria direct from a sensational triumph at the Majestic Theatre, Chicago, is Mme. DuBarry and her Grand Opera Sextette, offering a magnificent spectacle, entitled "Bits From Famous Operas." To hear this sextette alone, is worth far more than the price of admission asked. The act is beautifully staged and costumed.

Another feature will be the appearance of "The Cavana Trio" in what they term "A Comic Circus Classic." It is a riot of fun and versatality. Others on the bill are "The Harkins Girls" offering "Moments in Melodyland." Then there is Claude Wade, a clever chap, in songs, dances and stories. Next is Norman and Landee, late feature with Veleska Suratt, clever funsters, in their latest comedy skit, entitled "Don't Rush Me". Another sensation is Frank and Betty Russell, the "Speed Demons of the Air" the fastest aerial act in the world.

A two reel comedy and a one reel News Weekly complete the bill.

"THE UNWANTED CHILD" AT RIALTO ON JAN. 3

"The Unwanted Child," Florence Edna May's sensational success which comes to the Rialto theatre for matinee and night Thursday Jan. 3, is a happy combination of comedy, romance and drama, with superlative settings. If all the world loves a lover, a large section of that world despises the adventures of a dissolute and intriguing lover and what does this same world think of his accomplice? Florence Edna May, celebrated authoress, had this in mind when she wrote "The Unwanted Child."

The play is a fine bit of dramatic craftmanship, and its cast presents it with such consummate artistic skill that it will compel theatregoers to extol its merits on every street corner; for there is a thrill in "The Unwanted Child" a thrill so effectively woven into the play that it carries the spectator to the pinnacle of sunrise dramatics. It has become a tradition that a Florence Edna May play brings a sure prospect of an evening in the company of skilled artists. Also that it means something superior in the judgment this authoress has in the settings, in the use of lights and in the effects to emulate nature, all parts of which is recognized by the term "atmosphere." An onlooker tells us Miss May seems to reach the high point of her play in the earlier scenes, expressed with much naturalness and directness. While in the last act her emotional tensity has dramatic force it is as the affectionate maiden of the first act and the distracted bride parting with her love for the sake—? Seats are on sale Wednesday. The matinee is for ladies only. No children admitted.

THEATRES

Dreamland — Charles Jones, Maurice Flynn and Ruth Clifford in "Hell's Hole," a western story as full of adventures as an egg is of meat. The story of a man who becomes involved in a train holdup and is wrongfully sent to prison. He escapes and finds the real thief, who is about to marry the girl that the prisoner intended to. He captures him, and just then in comes a sheriff's posse after the escaped convict. The real thief, who is about to marry, thing turns out all right on the finish.

Grand—"The Age of Desire." The story of a mother who was torn between love for her son by a former marriage, and a great longing for the things that riches could buy, and who was afraid to tell her husband to be of the former marriage for fear he would not marry her. She made a mistake and repudiated the son, and then longed for him as only a mother can. In addition there is a new comedy and a new program.

American—"Six Days," featuring Eleanor Glyn, who wrote the story. Corinne Griffith and Frank Mayo, a trio of stars well-known on the screen. The picture tells of the days spent under ground and of the adventures that befell those involved. Also a fine comedy and the news pictures.

Colonial—"The Girl Who Came Back." This is a guaranteed production that the management are proud to book. There are some real heart throbs in the picture, together with a number of thrilling events that are bound to please. Also a new comedy and an extra picture.

Rialto—Monday night, "Uncle Wiggily, and the Marionettes." Thursday, "The Unwanted Child," a drama that tells of the tragedy of the baby, "what wasn't wanted."

GEO. ROLAND SCOTT DIED ON THURSDAY

OBERLIN, Dec. 29.—George Roland Scott, son of E. M. Scott of 280 East Lorain street, died suddenly yesterday morning at about 10:00 o'clock in the Oberlin hospital of acute endocarditis The boy, who was eleven years of age, has never been very strong, but was in fairly good health until the Christmas vacation when he complained of headaches. He was not really sick until Thursday evening when a doctor was called.

He was taken to the Oberlin hospital Thursday night and had a restful sleep there. He was apparently much better in the morning at 9:30 when his parents inquired about him. A few minutes later he became restless and asked to have one of his sisters come and sit beside him. As the little girl was getting ready to go to the hospital word was received that George had died.

The boy leaves his parents and seven other children in the family. A sister died a few years ago during the influenza epidemic.

Greetings for the New Year!

WE extend to all our friends a cordial, hearty wish for happiness and prosperity.

And this is a fitting occasion to reaffirm our creed, with hopes that it will make us as many friends in the future as it has in the past.

We believe in a steadfast policy of offering only good furniture, and of offering it at fair prices —based on sound values.

We believe that within our community there are enough people who care for furniture of distinction, beauty and permanent qualities to justify our policy of excluding everything that does not come up to the high standard we have always maintained.

This is our creed, and we take this opportunity to repeat it and to pledge that it will be lived up to as scrupulously through the new year as it has been through former years —and as it will be throughout our whole future of steadfast service.

POEMS THAT LIVE

OF CLEMENTINA

In Clementina's artless mien
Lucilla asks me what I see,
And are the roses of sixteen
Enough for me?

Lucilla asks, if that be all,
Have I not cull'd as sweet before:
I still deplore.

I now behold another scene,
Where Pleasure beams with Heaven's own light,
More pure, more constant, more serene,
And not less bright.

Faith, on whose breast the Loves repose,
Whose chain of flowers no force can sever,
And Modesty who, when she goes,
Is gone forever.

—Walter Savage Landor.

THE BUSINESS COLLEGE COURSE PAYS

WHO? Your son or daughter. In fact any person from from 16 years of age to three times that age who has acquired at least a grammar grade education. The average age of the 121 students enrolled at The Elyria Business College this school year is 19 years.

WHAT? Your son or daughter can win success by attending The Elyria Business College. What others have done, they can do. An honest effort put forth by any average student is all that it will require. The cost, depending upon the course chosen, ranges from $90 to $165. Night School, $6 per month.

WHEN? Wednesday, January 2, 1924—the opening date of the New Year term. Registrations are now being made for day and evening classes. Phone 2461. This may be the opportune time for your son or daughter to have a short intensive course of business training. Delay may mean NEVER—It may mean years of ordinary service as a counter clerk at small pay instead of an enjoyable office position at a good salary with opportunities for advancement. IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE.

WHERE? At The Elyria Business College—an Accredited business training institution, which has for its aim the training of young people to meet the demands of the modern business office. WE SECURE POSITIONS FOR GRADUATES.

WHAT THEN? A delighted son or daughter, pleased parents and a satisfied employer.

WHAT IS ACCOMPLISHED BY THE BUSINESS COLLEGE COURSE?

The best answer to this important question is found in the following list which shows where positions have been secured recently by students of The Elyria Business College:

THE UNIVERSAL CRANE COMPANY—Theodore Struck, bookkeeper; Edward Waldron, time keeper.
THE J. W. LUCAS COMPANY—Arthur Bucholz, bookkeeper.

There is an increasing demand for graduates of The Elyria Business College. In fact we have had as many as twenty calls within the past few weeks for office help that we could not supply.

Remember parents that it is a Business College training that most young people will finally want to possess.

The New Year Term at The Elyria Business College will open Wednesday, Jan. 2, Both Day and Evening Classes.

The College Office at 309 Broad Street will be open day and evening for registration.
